Junga is a small village nestled in a dense pine forest surrounded by waterfalls and greenery. Most of the villagers earn their livelihood through agriculture and milching of cattle is a very common activity practised in Maheshu village. With gradual expansion of the Shimla city, the capital suburbs are also rapidly urbanising and as a result the consumer behaviour is changing with increased dependency on market products for dairy items. However, due to the demand and supply mismatch, the local demand is fulfilled by packaged dairy products from Punjab. Consequently, there is a lot of untapped potential that can be utilised in this sector.

Belonging to a poor family in an agrarian household in Junga, Mrs. Reena Devi earned extra monetary gains by selling milk to suburban households. However, she was owning only one cow and her returns were not enough to scale up the operations. In addition to lack of funding, she lacked training to manage and expand her business.

She was made aware about the NRLM scheme through outreach efforts of HPSRLM. With assistance and aid of NRLM, Reena Devi joined the Gauri Maa Self-Help Group in 2019. She received extensive knowledge session under PMFME scheme and other HPSRLM trainings for upscaling her skills in dairy farming to become financially independent and boost her confidence to market her organic dairy products to the retailers in the Shimla suburbs. Funding worth Rs. 40,000/- was granted to her for upscaling and mechanising her dairy processes. As a result, she is now a true example of a real life protagonist, who set an escalating example of willpower and courage to her fellow women colleagues in SHG.

“ The best preparation for tomorrow is doing your best today” - H. Jackson Brown

Two years ago, Mrs. Usha Devi used to live in a Kutch house with her family, her husband was the sole bread earner in the family. The family demands were not met by the meagre earnings of his husband, so Usha Devi decided to become a dynamic part of NRLM by joining SHIV SHAKTI SHG actively in her Village Jaroh. The prime objective of Usha Devi was to become financially independent to meet her family's needs. Usha Devi was a pioneer in making local delicacies called 'SEPU BADIYA', fried lentil cakes. These are used locally in Himachali Dham for festive foods, especially at ceremonial occasions. The women of the SHIV SHAKTI SHG group were actively engaged in food processing works like making of Nutri, vermicelli, etc. This SHG was provided a Revolving fund of Rs 10,000 in 2017, which the group used to buy raw materials. SHG has also taken loans from the bank twice up to Rs 3.5 lakhs. Moreover, Group now has taken a loan of Rs 10 lakh under PM Mudra Yojana, from which they have bought a vermicelli-making machine. The average monthly income of the SHG was Rs 20,000 which went up to Rs 30,000 after the installation of Grinding and Vermicelli Making Machine under PMFME scheme

Idea to start the Enterprise	The idea of the enterprise was initially conceptualised by Usha Devi's husband, who was into the local catering business. Their efforts eventually transpired into a full-fledged entrepreneurial venture by the sincere and envisioning precept of the HP SRLM team.
Challenges faced in starting the Enterprise	The biggest challenge faced was getting the loan as the working capital for setting up the business. Initially, another challenge was mechanising the vermicelli making process. The enterprise was hesitant to compromise on the taste of the SEPU VADIYA, which were prepared authentically with traditional practises. Hence, mechanising this process was done very carefully and systematically without compromising the taste.

What would an Indian thali be, if it wasn't accompanied by a serving of achaar (pickle)? Of all the gourmet food combinations in the world, nothing can quite compare to the pairing of piping hot paranthas (aloo would be a unanimous choice) with perfectly done, homemade pickle (mango would win hands down). The power of a pickle is most felt when a tiffin opens, either in a crowded room or an airplane. Open a jar of pickle and you end up opening a jar of memories.

For Satya Thakur , a member of Nari Shakti Sangathan, a 2018 certified self help group in Kandhaghat , learnt the best recipes for pickles from her mothers and grandmothers. She can vouch for it. Since 2018, Satya Thakur has been dishing out a delectable line-up of pickles, chutneys, sauces and jams under her the brand name 'Thakur Pickle/ Aachar Chutney Shop'. Under the PMFME scheme she procured a gas stove and other essential utensils for upscaling her business from a home grown pickle service into a popular pickle brand 'Thakur Pickle' in Solan and Shimla district.

Under present scenario, when most of us would prefer restricting our personal or business-related investments, and aim for maximising our returns on the limited investments done, stepping in for the pickle business should be a rational decision. Pickles form a traditional food item of our country which is quite popular. One can find them easily in every Indian home. Pickles are prepared by preserving different fruits and vegetables in vinegar or brine along with different spices and other ingredients. The perfect taste of the pickle depends on the correct mixing of different ingredients at the best proportion and the perfect timing for the processing. A small amount of pickle can help people relishing an entire meal actually. A pickle business - is exactly what Mrs Neelam Verma did in 2018, by joining Nahi Shakti Sangathan in, Kandhaghat block. She is first beneficiary of PMFME scheme in Solan district and is famous in Solan as “Neelam Pickles” brand, with exceptional taste, authenticity and packaging.
